THIRTIETH YEAR—NO. 33

SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR—ALWAYS IN ADVANCE.

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI, SATURDAY, AUGUST 5, 1921.

DEATH OF MOTHER RAPHAEL AT ST. JOSEPH'S EPH'S FRIDAY A. M.

HAD BEEN SUPERIOR AT ST. JOSEPH'S ACADEMY FOR FULL TERM OF SIX YEARS—FORTY-FIVE YEARS' A RELIGIOUS WAS 64 YEARS OF AGE—FUNERAL TOOK PLACE FROM CHURCH THIS MORNING.

Death of Rev. Mother Raphael, superior of St. Joseph's Academy, Bay St. Louis, occurred yesterday morning at 11:15 o'clock following a period of illness of the heart. She was 64 years of age. Her maiden name was Josephine (Sutherland) Armstrong. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Agnes (Hagerty) Smith, and thirteen grand-nephews and grand-nieces. Her nieces are: Mrs. Adolph Spitzeder, Mrs. A. G. Gullion, Mrs. Frances Richardson, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. McGary.

Mother Raphael was serving the last few remaining days of her term as Mother Superior. She came to Bay St. Louis about six years ago, succeeding the late Rev. Mother Rose. A sister serving six years as the limit of her term as superior until again re-appointed to some other charge. Her thirty years of superior service brought her in active and executive touch with the great work of the sisters in all matters connected with the convent. It was often said that she was loved by all the sisters more than the ordinary term of word. She was held in high regard. Her opinions were always sought and regarded, and her decisions in the wayward matters always cleared the way and made the path straight.

She was superior at one time at Baton Rouge, La., and another time she was superior at Brattleboro, Vt. She was superior at the American Order of the Sisters of St. Joseph in the United States for seven years. The funeral was held at St. Joseph's church this morning.

LAPOLETTE WILL ATTACK HARDING FOR RELIEF BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Senator LaFollette is organizing opposition to the administration's bill. Considerable support is expected for the "west of Chicago" senators who are fighting for reduced freight rates. Opponents of the measure will attack it as follows:

1. A demand for the repeal of the law in the transportation act. 2. A demand that the power of the interstate commerce commission over rates and rate making be entirely restored. 3. A demand that the railroads be put under fire as he is credited with having worked out the administration plan. It will be alleged that after the railroads appealed to Harding for $1,000,000,000 and were told that they could not have it, they became alarmed and fearing a great decline in freight rates, they were asked to give up the plan. The story to the senate, that Hoover was sent to New York and worked out with railroad heads.

Her place will be hard to fill in the passing of Mother Raphael. The Order of the Sisters of St. Joseph sustain an irreparable loss. One who knew Mother Raphael well says: "Her predominant virtue was love of God; she was always kind to others and had a generous disposition. She was sensitive and felt the touch of the great work of the sisters in all matters connected with the convent. It was often said that she was loved by all the sisters more than the ordinary term of word. She was held in high regard. Her opinions were always sought and regarded, and her decisions in the wayward matters always cleared the way and made the path straight."

She was superior at one time at Baton Rouge, La., and another time she was superior at Brattleboro, Vt. She was superior at the American Order of the Sisters of St. Joseph in the United States for seven years. The funeral was held at St. Joseph's church this morning.

WELLS DRILLED FOR OIL IN MISSISSIPPI

STATE GEOLOGIST PUBLISHES LIST OF WELLS AND LOCATIONS IN ATTEMPT TO FIND OIL IN STATE, EIGHTEEN ATTEMPTS, SEVEN IN OPERATION, ELEVEN ABANDONED OR SHUT DOWN; LOWEST DEPTH 4260 FEET, NO OIL.

State Geologist E. N. Lowe, has issued the following list of wells that were and are still in search of oil in Mississippi during the first six months of 1921. Of the 18 attempts only seven are in operation the other 11 have either abandoned the well or shut down.

The wells where drilling is still in progress are as follows:

Chickasaw County: Harley Development Company, Flaherty No. 1, drilling at 1299 feet on June 23.

Lowndes County: Anderson Drilling Company, Billups No. 1, drilling at about 1850 feet on July 15.

Lauderdale County: Oil Truss Company, drilling at 2610 feet on July 15th.

Tallahatchie County: Citizens Oil and Gas Company, Newton No. 1, drilling at 3575 feet on July 15th.

Tishomingo County: Inks Development Company, Jourdan No. 1, drilling at 3471 feet about July 15.

Warren County: Edmonds Oil and Refining Corporation, Archer No. 1, drilling at about 2840 feet on July 15th.

Washington County: Alhambra Oil and Gas Company, Williams No. 1, drilling at 1320 feet on June 16.

The eleven wells that have been abandoned or shut down are:

Lowndes County: Anderson Drilling Company, shut down at 750 feet on July 15th.

Madison County: Madison County Oil and Gas Company, left well at 3020 feet on March 19th.

Montgomery County: Preston Oil Company, McLeod No. 1, abandoned at 4260 feet on June 21.

Pike County: Gulf Drilling Company, shut down at 1162 feet on May 10th.

Hinds County: Raymond, Benninger and Beach, shut down at 1400 feet on May 15th.

Jackson County: Jackson County Oil Company, Georgia Well No. 2, shut down at 1887 feet.

Jackson County: The Georgia Oil Waterman No. 1, shut down at 2,000 feet.

Jackson County: Sea Coast Oil Company, Hibbler No. 1, abandoned at 4,000 feet.

Jefferson County: Manhattan-Texas Petroleum Co., Truly Well No. 1, on the edge of Truly Plantation, 16 miles northwest of Fayette, Miss. Abandoned.

INTERESTING FRUIT CULTURE

Trees in Orchard at Cambridge, England, Set So Close as to Preclude Machine Cultivation.

Intensive fruit culture to an extent scarcely to be found in this country was noticed at Cambridge, England, by Prof. L. C. Corbett of the United States Department of Agriculture, who has just returned from an European mission. A concern there has an orchard of 1,400 acres so densely set that machine cultivation or the introduction of a horse-drawn spraying machine is impossible. Apple trees are set two rods apart and are headed high, six or seven feet from the ground, the spread of limb being more than six feet from the trunk. Between the apple rows plum trees are set midway and also headed high; beneath the plum and apple trees currant and gooseberry bushes are set in rows three feet apart.

Before the war culture was by hand, even to the pruning. When the war took away man-power the owners saved themselves by introducing small "wheelbarrow tractors," manufactured in the United States, which have a tread of only 10 to 20 inches. The density of the orchard, of course, precludes horse-spraying. To meet this condition a complete waterworks system has been run through the roadway, which is placed at intervals and line-sprayer mixture or Bordeaux mixture is pumped through the mains from a central power plant, spraying 300 acres. The mixture is kept hot by hose connections at intervals. The company owning this orchard has a large preserving plant for the manufacture of jam when the market is poor for plums and apples.

In Lombardy and Normandy, on the contrary, apple culture appears to be incidental to pasturage. The trees are set 80 or 90 feet apart and are pruned high so as to be out of the way of stock. Apples of northern France are largely used for cider, in the manufacture and blending of which the people are as expert as in the manufacture of wine.

EVERBEARING IS GOOD BERRY

When Given Proper Cultural Attention Profitable Crop in Fall Is Almost Certain.

It was less than 20 years ago that everbearing strawberries were introduced into this country. At first they were regarded by many as a failure, but at the new berry farms, where they were brought in, the berries were so good that the people began to grow them.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

POPLARS' PRIDE

"We have something of which to be very proud," said Papa Poplar Tree to Mother Poplar Tree.

"I am sure we have," said Mother Poplar, "but tell me what it is."

"May I listen, too?" asked old Mr. Sun.

"Indeed you may," said Papa Poplar, "and proud I'll be to have you listen. You are such a friend of the Poplar family, for you help us to grow."

"You help us to grow?" asked Mother Poplar, "and you help us to grow fine sunshine and fine rain?"

"Thank you, thank you," said Mr. Sun, smiling a beautiful sunny smile. "Are you proud because of the Sun's friendship?" asked Mother Poplar.

"I am sure you are proud of that," Mother Poplar continued, "for all of the Poplars are, but I wonder if that was what you meant when you said that we had something of which to be very proud."

"I didn't mean that at that time," said Papa Poplar, "I am always proud of my friendship with the Sun as is every other Poplar."

"I never cease to be proud of that friendship and when I say I never cease to be proud of that friendship, I mean that I never stop feeling proud of it."

"But what I was about to speak of was to tell that we should be very proud of the way the family have always behaved after fires, forest fires I mean."

"Have we gone with buckets of water and put them out?" asked Mother Poplar, "Have we called the hose company and climbed the ladders with the firemen? Have we rescued people who were calling to us from out of windows?"

"Have we sent in a fire alarm and have we rung the fire bells?"

"Have we hitched the horses to the hook and ladder wagon? Have we done any of these things, Papa Poplar? Of course I know I haven't, but you were speaking of the Poplar family as a whole and of the Poplar family in the past."

"That's a great joke," laughed Mr. Sun. "Mother Poplar, you are a funny tree!" And Mr. Sun chuckled and beamed with amusement.

"No, we never did any of those things," said Papa Poplar. "We never could I fear. And I don't know that we would be of any use if we did."

"We couldn't do those things properly. In fact we might do more harm than good if we tried to do good, hold back those who could do good, from doing it."

"We wouldn't hold them back," said Mother Poplar. "I've never held any one or anything from doing anything."

"I don't mean we might really hold them back. But we might keep them in the way if we would keep them back."

"But tell me the thing of which we're so proud, or of which I will feel so proud when I know of it?" asked Mother Poplar.

"You know of it now," said Papa Poplar, "but you have forgotten about it for the moment."

You never went to school and so there are times when you forget. If we went to school we'd never forget. We would be taught to remember."

"Ah," said Mr. Sun. "But even those who go to school forget, and even those who've finished their school days forget. I've looked into many a school-room, and even into an office room where people are grown-up and past school days and I've heard people saying they 'forgot' this and that."

"Then there is every excuse for us," said Mother Poplar.

"Yes, indeed," agreed Mr. Sun. "Well," said Papa Poplar, "we have every right to be proud of the way the poplars grow up after there has been a forest fire. We don't wait until the ground gets just right, we don't care if the places where there have been forest fires are as beautiful as other places."

"We just go into such places and grow and start the fashion and do our best to make up for the harm the fire has done. That is what I think we may be justly proud of, don't you, Mr. Sun?"

And Mr. Sun agreed with Papa Poplar, who stood so straight and who, with his family, held his branches toward the Sun.

MISSISSIPPI SCHOOL ATTENDANCE 263,130

CENSUS BUREAU SHOWS THAT THERE ARE 328,372 CHILDREN IN THE STATE SEVEN TO THIRTEEN YEARS OF AGE, THAT OVER 80 PER CENT OR 263,130 ARE IN ATTENDANCE AT SCHOOL. FIVE PER CENT INCREASE SINCE 1910.

According to the census of 1920 there are 328,372 children 7 to 13 years of age in the state of Mississippi. For colored children 263,130 or 80.1 per cent, were reported as attending school. In 1910 the percentage attending school was 75.4, thus indicating a gratifying improvement as regards school attendance between 1910 and 1920. Of the children 14 and 15 years of age in 1920 75.2 per cent were attending school and of those 16 and 17 years of age 51.7 per cent.

Of white children 7 to 13 years of age 75.4 per cent were attending school in 1910 and 80.1 per cent in 1920. For colored children of the same age the percentage in the same interval increased from 67.0 to 71.5 per cent.

The percentage of children attending schools was considerably larger in the cities than in the country districts, the percentage of the children in the urban population 7 to 13 years of age being 89.2, while in the rural population it was 79.1. "Urban," according to the census definition, includes all cities and other incorporated places of 2,500 or more.

CONTINUOUS FIGHT ON PESTS

Some of Most Valuable Control Work May Be Accomplished During Dormant Season.

In order to increase the production of fruit it is essential that fruit-growers wage a continuous fight on orchard pests. Some of the most valuable control work can be accomplished during the fall and winter months. Certain destructive insects are held in check only by spraying during the dormant period of trees, when stronger washes may be used than when the trees are in foliage. Many insects spend the winter on the tree in the egg, larva or pupal stage, and their destruction in the course of pruning and other orchard work is practicable and is of much importance in keeping them reduced. Certain fungous and bacterial diseases, particularly pear blight and apple canker, are best worked upon at this time.

Practically all of the orchard scale insects can be successfully controlled by spraying the trees after the foliage has dropped. This work may be done either in the fall or during the winter when the temperature is above freezing and in the spring before the buds come out. During these periods a strong solution of lime sulphur is used by a great many orchardists in controlling San Jose scale and many other serious scale pests.

Other scale insect pests, such as the cherry scale, oystershell scale, etc., can usually be held in check by the dormant spray with a lime sulphur wash. The treatment is also effective against the pear leaf blister mite, which is universally present on pears, and in many localities becomes a serious apple pest. Some plant lice that are destructive especially to young apple trees winter in the egg stage and are destroyed by this treatment. One thing that must be remembered in applying the dormant spray is that the solution should cover every part of the tree or it will not be effective.

One of the first things corrected was the poor feeding methods. Cottonseed meal and hulls formed the basis of the ration; farmers had no knowledge of balanced rations, and few were in number, and it was not built by farm labor. A few silos were erected in 1906 as demonstrations, and the idea began to grow slowly in popularity.

The value of silage compared with cottonseed hulls was very striking, even in the days when hulls were only $4 or $5 a ton. A dairy farm near Blount, Miss., where 40 tons of silage were fed instead of cottonseed hulls, reported a saving of $250 for the winter.

"From a local standpoint," writes one of the federal agents of the dairy division, "the establishing of dairying in the hill-wealth districts of Mississippi has been one of the greatest achievements. Anyone acquainted with the despondency of farmers in 1912 in southern Mississippi, and who was enabled later to see the change wrought by the dairy cows, will agree that enthusiasm for dairying is well founded in a region that was floundering for years, seeking a livelihood, now changed to a country in which the farmers are supplying whole milk for New Orleans and other points. This means that methods are being used."

DAIRY DAIRY

Home Demand Supplied for Products and Soil Fertility Built Up and Maintained.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

More than 2,500,000 pounds of butter was made by 93 creameries in the Southern states in the year ending December 31, 1910. Thirty of the 54 cheese factories scattered throughout the mountain region turned out 431,000 pounds of Cheddar cheese. Since modern dairy barns, and purebred dairy cows are becoming common, fifteen years ago dairying as an industry has been scarcely started in the southern states.

"Fifteen years ago dairying as an industry has been scarcely started in the southern states," said a specialist in the dairy division, United States Department of Agriculture. "The South probably has made more progress in the last 15 years than any other section of the country. The increase in the number of dairy cows from 1907 to 1920 was more than 50 per cent. The increase for the entire United States during the same period was 13.3 per cent."

While the increase in number of cows has been large, it is pointed out by men working co-operatively with the federal government and the state agricultural colleges, that the improvement in quality has been of even greater importance. Purebreds have been shipped in every year in large numbers, and great interest has been shown in the use of purebred strains. There are now 48 bull associations in these states. The latest census figures available show there are 5,134 head of purebred dairy cattle in South Carolina and 4,686 in Virginia.

"Dairy development began in the southern states shortly after 1906," said one of the specialists. "But the improvement was slow at first. It was difficult to convince growers in my territory that there was anything for them in dairying. But an object lesson was found that finally convinced them. On one side of a road was a field of cotton that yielded two bales per acre; on the other side a field gave half a bale. The farm that grew two bales to the acre had kept cows for five years, and the manure had produced the change. Farmers were taken from miles around to see these two fields."

"This little demonstration illustrates the purpose for which dairy cows were introduced into the South."

First Prize is $2,500.

First prize of $2,500 for professors of History in American colleges; other prizes will be for $1,000 for school superintendents and teachers, general public, including specialists in history, sociology, economics, law and diplomacy, and biographical studies; students in colleges, students who have access to archives in Canada, Mexico, Central and South America; students specializing in American history who have access to university libraries, and archivists in Europe and elsewhere.

Begin War on White Plague.

A comprehensive and sustained attack by 800,000 men and their families on the white plague was launched today at the Knights convention.

Under the chairmanship of Dr. E. W. Buckley, of St. Paul, Supreme Physician of the Knights of Columbus, throughout the United States and Canada, will initiate and maintain a campaign against tuberculosis to be supported by local aid and maintenance of beds in sanitariums, and the rendering of material aid to consumptives.

"After an exhaustive research and consultation with noted experts on tuberculosis," Dr. Buckley reported to the Knights convention, "and after the Knights committee has concluded that central localized activity is the most effective weapon."

For Correspondence School.

Knights of Columbus educators from all parts of the country met today to formulate final plans for the correspondence school system. The Knights, it was announced, plan the largest correspondence school in the United States to augment their free night school system, numbering 132 units and serving 150 former service men and women.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover today wired the convention congratulating the Knights on their educational work in promoting foreign trade study among ex-service men.

NO BLUE LAW SAYS TWO DELISLE BOYS KEPT OF C. CHURCHMANAGE REAL HEROES

SUPREME KNIGHT FATTERY REJECTS BID FOR SUPPORT OF SO-CALLED SUNDAY BLUE LAW FROM INTERNATIONAL REFORM BUREAU AT WASHINGTON AT MEETING OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS IN SAN FRANCISCO THIS WEEK.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Aug. 1.—An appeal to the Knights of Columbus international convention to co-operate with the forces seeking to revive so-called Sunday blue laws was rejected from the International Reform Bureau at Washington, by the Knights of Columbus board of directors at the convention meeting at the Hotel St. Francis today.

The appeal calls upon the Knights of Columbus to espouse the cause of reform for limitation of Sunday activities and for the abolition of prize fighting.

Knights Want None of It.

"This appeal," said Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty, "is addressed to the Knights of Columbus because we are known not by our sympathy with so-called blue law promoters. The convention cannot seriously consider it."

"Congress and our legislatures and civil governments and police departments are quite equal to the task of regulating civic behavior in the United States without the interference of reform bureaus. The Knights of Columbus want none of it."

All states of the union and the Dominion of Canada have their delegations here and the convention will open with special civic and religious ceremonies Tuesday morning.

Million for Americanization.

Romantic announcement of the launching of a $1,000,000 movement to promote the study of American history was announced by John H. Reddin, of Denver, supreme master of the fourth degree, Knights of Columbus.

He announces that the Knights of Columbus will offer $7,500 in prizes for the best history essays on subjects to be specified by the Knights of Columbus National Historical Commission, the personnel of which is now being recruited. The prizes are open to competitors in classes as follows:

First Prize is $2,500.

First prize of $2,500 for professors of History in American colleges; other prizes will be for $1,000 for school superintendents and teachers, general public, including specialists in history, sociology, economics, law and diplomacy, and biographical studies; students in colleges, students who have access to archives in Canada, Mexico, Central and South America; students specializing in American history who have access to university libraries, and archivists in Europe and elsewhere.

Begin War on White Plague.

A comprehensive and sustained attack by 800,000 men and their families on the white plague was launched today at the Knights convention.

Under the chairmanship of Dr. E. W. Buckley, of St. Paul, Supreme Physician of the Knights of Columbus, throughout the United States and Canada, will initiate and maintain a campaign against tuberculosis to be supported by local aid and maintenance of beds in sanitariums, and the rendering of material aid to consumptives.

"After an exhaustive research and consultation with noted experts on tuberculosis," Dr. Buckley reported to the Knights convention, "and after the Knights committee has concluded that central localized activity is the most effective weapon."

THE SEA COAST ECHO.
C. C. Morau, Editor and Publisher.
Official Journal of The Board of Supervisors, Hancock County, Miss.
Official Journal of Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

CITY ECHOES.

Miss Virginia Fanner is here from New Orleans on a visit to her cousin, Miss Jean Harris, at Carroll avenue, and will remain for an indefinite stay.

There will be a benefit card party on Monday afternoon given at the residence of Mrs. Ritzky, on the beach front, by Mrs. Thriftley, for the benefit of the church at Waveland, benefit of St. Clair's.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore and their young daughter, Miss Katherine, who have been spending the summer with Mrs. Moore's mother, Mrs. Julius, left during the early part of the week for their home in Birmingham, Ala., making the trip in their sedan. This excellent little family will be missed from friends in the charmed circle.

Captain George Bangard, of the 2nd precinct police station, at New Orleans, came out on the beach front and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Bangard, the former his nephew at the home of his relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Madison, Captain Bangard is also a brother of Street Commissioner Leopold Bangard, of Bay St. Louis.

Miss Leah Mae and Helen Kerkel, accomplished young ladies from New Orleans, are spending a while in Bay St. Louis, house guests of Mrs. P. V. Lacoste, at the handsome Lacoste villa on the beach front. The young ladies visiting here previously, are no strangers and their visit is a source of much pleasure to friends.

A special sale in all lines is on Mrs. E. Boudin's general merchandise store in Third Street. This sale will continue through the remainder of this month and all through the month of September. Prices have been slashed regardless of value. The management has simply slaughtered high prices, another true case of killing. This sale is a money saver—a call at the store will convince. Watch for advertisement.

Miss Beatrice Wilkinson, an accomplished student at St. Mary's Dominican College, New Orleans, is the guest of her school mate and friend, Miss Annie Lucas, Miss Wilkinson is a graduate of the New Orleans College of Oratory, gifted with a charming voice and is endowed with many talents. She will spend the week-end with relatives near Gulfport and return for an indefinite period with her Bay St. Louis friends.

The home of Mrs. John D. Grace, at Waveland, was the scene of quite a successful benefit card party yesterday afternoon, when 12 tables of players, contested for the trophies. Mrs. Grace, who is always a charming hostess, assisted by her accomplished daughters, gave the party for the benefit of the church at the Waveland Church Fair, for St. Clair's, to be held next Saturday and Sunday. It is expected many people from Bay St. Louis will attend.

Readers of The Echo are asked to send in the names of their guests to any social item in which they might be interested and would prove of interest to these columns. It is a mistake to be backward in this matter. Don't be ashamed of your guests or people who have visited you. The editor will not think you are presuming and that you are seeking to get your name in print. This is a mistaken idea. Some people have in fact the editor will think more of you. It is through the public print these days that we keep in touch largely with the people we know, and who come and go. Send in your social and personal items.

The benefit card party given on Friday of last week at the home of St. Margaret's Daughters' by Mrs. Ritzky and a number of ladies for the benefit of the home, was both a social and financial success. The amount netted was $20.45. This money is for a fund created for the purpose of providing entertainment for visitors to the place, and is to be commended.

Mr. Geo. R. Rea, accompanied by Mrs. Rea, returned home Friday of last week from their trip to Chicago, where Mr. Rea attended the biennial convocation of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity, and as a result received recognition of his splendid services was re-elected national treasurer. This honor and position of trust was worthily bestowed, and Bay St. Louis is alive to the significance of this compliment both to Mr. Rea and to Bay St. Louis. The Kappa Sigma is one of the largest and more prominent of the college fraternities in extent and its membership and influence extends over the world.

There will be a dance given on Saturday night, at the home of Mrs. H. A. Farrington, for the benefit of the day fund of the church at Waveland, benefit of St. Clair's. The dance will be a social and financial success. The management has simply slaughtered high prices, another true case of killing. This sale is a money saver—a call at the store will convince. Watch for advertisement.

Attorney H. C. Boyle came out from New Orleans Sunday night and on Monday was a professional visitor to Gulfport and Ocean Springs with his brother, E. J. Boyle, L. Boyle. The trip was made by automobile. While here Mr. Boyle stopped with his mother at the Tulane Hotel.

Local anglers are having their inning. Fish are biting. Mackerel plentiful in the Bay front, and sheepshead, red fish and green trout are numerous and hungry in the waters of the Jordan. No fisherman returns without a long string of beauties. One local angler and a wit, E. J. G., says he and his friend have discovered a place where fish are so plentiful and voraciously hungry that as a matter of self-preservation it is necessary to put one's hook under his hat or under the seat of the boat.

Having purchased the Williams property corner Front Street and Carroll avenue, P. V. Lacoste has a force of men building one of the finest pieces of wharf construction heretofore, connecting the buildings originally built by Mr. Williams. The plan is excellent and is carried out along standard lines, and in a most workmanlike manner.

Mr. Randolph Firsching, who left here recently for a visit to relatives and friends in Cincinnati and Baltimore, is now spending while at the latter place, where he is having a splendid time. The young man recently graduated with honors and the trip North and East is a present of his parents. He intends attending Tulane University this winter.

BAY POSTOFFICE TO ST. MARGARET HOME REMAIN AT PRESENT SITE OF MUCH LIFE AND PLEASURE

ADVISE FROM WASHINGTON THIS WEEK GIVES TEN-YEAR LEASE TO HANCOCK COUNTY BANK, OWNERS OF PRESENT POSTOFFICE BUILDING—LOCATION IS CENTRAL AND IN HEART OF BUSINESS.

A message from Washington received this week by the Hancock County Bank, announced that the Bay St. Louis postoffice for the next 10 years would remain at the present location, in Main near Front Street, and in the building at present occupied by that branch of the United States postal service locally.

The message was addressed to the bank's president, Mr. J. V. Lacoste, who is the best person for the reason that corporation owns the present postoffice building and site. The rental figures are not given out, but it is understood the compensation is ample.

There was an effort made to get the postoffice away from its present site, where it has stood for quite a number of years, and the very heart of things regarding business and in a most busy section. Of course there is plenty of business back of town, but all localities cannot be supplied with the services of a main postoffice. It is understood that very attractive offers were made the government in an effort to get the postoffice back of town, but the government is not looking for cheap quarters or cheap service. It is a labor of love for humanity. Where a guest can and will give a small something it is accepted.

Thursday night the visitors enjoyed a "tacky party," which Mrs. Vallette and others planned. The ladies, boys and girls anticipated the affair and their fondest expectations were realized for the affair was one thoroughly enjoyed. Prizes were given to the "tackiest of the tacky," and much fun was the result of the evening. Music was furnished by the Maynard Juvenile Orchestra and dancing held sway. Older folks inured with much success Virginia and other dances of other days. A number of program numbers added to the pleasures of the evening. Mrs. King, a visitor, who is 71 years young, sang a number of selections from other days with success. A number of visiting children delighted the guests with selected recitations.

St. Margaret's Daughters Home is located on the beach front, occupying and owning the property formerly known as the O'Brien home. It is a roomy and beautiful place, ideally located and not far from the "mad-dening crowd."

Mrs. Ritzky and other ladies assisted in making the "tacky party" the success that it was.

Judge S. Allen Bordelon, of Arroyos Parish, La., is a distinguished visitor to Bay St. Louis, and will remain indefinitely with his family who are spending the summer here.

UNDERKNIFE OF SURGEON, NEW ORLEANS

CATHOLIC SOCIETY RECREATION HOME OF ST. MARGARET'S DAUGHTERS, NEW ORLEANS HAS MANY GUESTS—FIFTY AT PRESENT WITH A CHANGING NUMBER EVERY TWO WEEKS—MRS. VALETTE MATRON.

The recreation home operated under the auspices of the St. Margaret's Daughters, New Orleans organization engaged in social and welfare work is the scene of hospitality and much gaiety this season. Mrs. Vallette is the matron in charge. This charming and capable woman, whose motherly influence and ever solicitous interest never flags, is beloved by all who visit the home. She is an excellent executive, kindly and indulgent, and the visitors are simply carried away with her attentions.

At present there are fifty visitors at St. Margaret's Home. Every two weeks a new number of women and children come away from the different Catholic church parishes at New Orleans. These remain from Friday to Friday, then a view number takes their place until the end of the season when all that can possibly be accommodated has been entertained. And this is without price. The organization expects nothing; it is a labor of love for humanity. Where a guest can and will give a small something it is accepted.
